Insurance

Your insurance coverage is a contract between you and the insurance company, and it is your responsibility to know your insurance benefits.

As a courtesy, we will bill both your primary and secondary insurance companies. We will submit your claims and assist you in any way we reasonably can to help get your claims processed. In order to do this, we must receive all the information necessary to bill. If the information is not supplied, you will be billed, and payment in full will be your responsibility and will be expected within 30 days of receipt of the statement.

Medicare

We participate in the Medicare program. You are responsible for your co-insurance, any deductibles that have not yet been met, and services that are identified as patient responsibility on your Medicare Explanation of Benefits. We strive to inform our Medicare patients of services that will not be covered. We may ask you to sign an Advanced Beneficiary Notice, which lists our fees and notifies you of your financial responsibility for certain medical services.

Managed Care

Many patients are enrolled in Managed Care Products. In order for us to obtain referrals and/or pre-authorizations, it is important that we have your current insurance information. Depending on individual policies, your provided care may not have a covered benefit. It is your responsibility to check for optimal coverage by your insurance company. Please contact your insurance company with questions regarding your coverage.

Patient Responsibility for Payment:

You are responsible for payment of any co-payment, co-insurance, deductible or service not covered by your insurance, handling, collection or attorney fees. If you do not have insurance, you are responsible for payment of all services. Co-payments are due at the time of your visit. Patient due balances noted on your monthly statement are due within 30 days of receipt.

Charges for minor children will be billed to the parent with whom the child resides. We will bill appropriate insurance if all required information is provided. We will not bill or contact a non-custodial parent on behalf of the custodial parent.

OB Care and Delivery

OB patients will meet with our business office representatives to discuss insurance coverage and payment options. Automatic payments from your bank account are available for your convenience.

Fees:

New patients without insurance, or if insurance co-payment cannot be verified, are required to pay a fee on or before the first date of service. If insurance payment results in a credit balance, it will be refunded to you. If you have fertility coverage, your insurance will be billed.

Payment Options:

We understand that financial circumstances vary from patient to patient. If you are unable to pay your patient due balance in full, you must call our Business Office at (541) 868-9759 to make payment arrangements.

We offer uninsured patients a 20% discount for payment by cash, check or credit card received on the date of service or as soon as charges are available for the service. Discount does not apply to infertility services, lab, or supply charges.

Non-Payment:

Failure to pay may result in your account being referred to a collection agency, which may affect your credit. Please contact our business staff to discuss payment arrangements. Referral to a collection agency, or naming The Fertility Center in a bankruptcy filing, may result in dismissal from our practice.

If we refer your account for legal action, you will be charged a processing fee and any applicable legal fees.

Fact Sheet for Health Care Consumers
Genetic Privacy & Research

Oregon's first genetic privacy laws were passed in 1995 with a goal of trying to help protect your genetic information and prevent possible employment or insurance discrimination to health care consumers like yourself.

In 2005, a few changes were made in Oregon laws about when results of a genetic test, specimens collected (such as blood or tissue), or health care information may be available for certain types of genetic research. You will be asked to make decisions about this starting in 2006.

What is the same?

- If genetic test results, specimens collected or health care information can be linked to you (for example if it includes your name or address or birth date) the researcher must still get your permission before using this information for genetic research.

What is new?

- If genetic test results, specimens collected or other health care information does not include any information that can be linked to you (or there is only a code and the key to the code is kept separately) the new law allows researchers to access these and ask permission of an independent review board (called an IRB) to use the test results, specimens collected or health care information for what is called “anonymous” or “coded” genetic research.
- The new law requires you to make a decision regarding use of your health information in anonymous or coded genetic research.
- As a result, starting July 1, 2006, the new law requires that your doctor or health care provider give you notice and asks you to complete a form at least once and mark if you DO NOT want any of your specimens or health care information available for anonymous or coded genetic research. This is often called an “opt-out” form.

Why was the change made?

- Many people want to keep their health care information, including their genetic information, private. Many people also recognize that medical and genetic research can help develop new information that allows both patients and doctors to learn more about diseases, make good health care decisions, and discover new treatments.
- The new law tries to balance the interests of those who want to keep their genetic information private by allowing them to make a decision to "opt-out" while allowing researchers to do genetic research needed to make good health care decisions by you and your health care providers.

What do I need to do?

- You will need to make a personal decision on whether your genetic test results, specimens collected, or health care information will be available for anonymous or coded genetic research.
- If you DO NOT want your results of a genetic test, specimens collected or health care information available for anonymous or coded genetic research you must mark that place on the form provided by your doctor or health care provider
- If you DO want the results of a genetic test, specimens collected, or your health care information available for anonymous or coded genetic research, you don't need to do anything.
- In either case, your health care provider is responsible for providing a notice and form for you to mark. This only needs to happen once, not at every visit.
- If you change your mind in the future, it is YOUR responsibility to inform your health care provider and it would only affect results of genetic tests, specimens collected or health care information from that date forward.

Where can I get more information?

Talk to your doctor or health care provider.

Notice of your Right to Decline Participation in Future Anonymous or Coded Genetic Research

The State of Oregon has laws to protect the genetic privacy of individuals. These laws give you the right to refuse to have your health information or biological samples used for research. A biological sample may include a blood sample, urine sample, or other materials collected from your body. You can decide whether to allow your health information or biological samples to be available for genetic research. Your decision will not affect the care you receive from your health care provider or your health insurance coverage.

Research is important because it gives us valuable information on how to improve health, such as ways to prevent or improve treatment for heart disease, diabetes, and cancer. Under Oregon law, a review board reviews all genetic research before it begins. This team makes sure that the benefits of the research are greater than any risks to participants. With the exception of anonymous or coded research, use of your health information or biological samples for genetic research requires your specific written consent.

In anonymous research, personal information that could be used to identify you, like your name or medical record number, cannot be linked to your health information or biological sample. In coded research, personal information that could be used to identify you is kept separate from your health information or biological sample so it would be very difficult for someone to link your personal information to your health information or biological sample. Your identity is protected in both types of research.

If you want to allow your health information and biological sample to be available for anonymous or coded genetic research, you don't have to do anything. If you make this choice, your health information or biological sample may be used for anonymous or coded genetic research without further notice to you.

If you decline to have your health information and biological sample available for anonymous or coded genetic research, you must tell your health care provider by:

- Completing this form and giving it to your health care provider.

Your decision is effective on the date you sign this form. No matter what you decide now, you can always change your mind later. If you change your mind, inform us of your decision in writing. The new decision will apply only to health information or biological samples collected after we receive this completed form.

If you have any questions or concerns about this notice, please contact our laboratory manager at 541-683-1559.

☐ By checking this box and signing below I decline to have my health information and biological samples available for anonymous and/or coded genetic research.
